I AM THE RIVER
AND RISE INTO FORM
TO SPEAK, FLY, SUFFER
WHY?
I AM THE RIVER, I AM THE RIVER
BUT I AM NOT THE CURRENT.

I AM STUFF
WHAT LIFE IS MADE OF.
I AM COLOR
BUT NOT CANVAS.

I CARRY LIFE WITH ME WHEREVER I GO
AND THERE'S NO END OR BEGINNING
THOUGH I AM NOT A CIRCLE.

A LETTER FROM THE GRAND MARSHAL

To the Class of '76:
As you graduate, the United States will be celebrating its bicentennial. Looking back at the events which have occurred during your four years at La Roche, you may be excused for wondering if there is anything to celebrate. Let me assure you that there is, for despite flaws and faults, past generations have wrought well.

The question now is, will there be anything worth celebrating in the future? The answer is in your hands. It is a terrifying responsibility. There will be those who will tell you that the answers rest in vast plans and programs which promise certain utopia. Those who believe this are misleading you and deluding themselves for the answers are not outside but within. It is for each and every individual to achieve that inner harmony without which society's yearning for peace and justice is in vain.

There are many ways to gain this inner balance. As one of your teachers and your class marshal, permit me to offer a few guidelines.

1. Do not believe in or give your heart to anything created by man for that is temporary. Be devoted to that which is permanent.
2. Love, Justice and Freedom are examples of those things which are permanent. Search out their meanings and you will find that though they seem relative, you will come to understand how absolute they really are.
3. Live imaginatively for only in so living will you be able to avoid accepting the obvious as true. Truth is never obvious. It is a vision that must be searched out.
4. Do not be misled by claims as to the infallibility of human reason. Reason is a tool and can only carry you so far.
5. Forgive always. Remember that you too will need and want it someday.
6. Finally, be careful of the world. It has many attractions and is subtle and devious in offering them. Read much, think much and imagine much for only in doing these things will you be able to fix your gaze beyond and so see reality. Remember that in this world very little that seems, is.

In closing, let me thank you for the honor that you have given me in asking me to be your class marshal. As you leave La Roche, I wish you love, peace and understanding and that you will always strive to be what you want to seem to be.

With best wishes for the future:

D. Terry Boughner — Teacher
